How SAL Is Organised

Four layers, each with a clear job. Members hold the power, the Council runs the work, departments carry it out, and programmes are where the art happens.

1 The General Assembly

Every member. Meets at least once a semester. Elects the four officers, changes the Constitution, receives the accounts and can remove anyone who abuses a role.

2 The Council

Four elected officers (the Executive Board) and six appointed directors. Meets every two weeks, adopts the budget, greenlights programmes, makes the Bylaws and Policies.

3 Six departments

Letters · Stage & Arts · Programmes & Events · Media · Partnerships & Outreach · Membership & Community. Each director leads a small team of coordinators.

4 Programmes

The things people see: Waraq, Side Quest, Second Chapter, the Typewriter Tour, the Majlis and more. Each has a lead, a charter and a budget, and the big ones have their own handbook.

Borrowed from Oxford and Dublin

A small elected council with named officers, as in Trinity College Dublin's Phil, which elects nine officers and co-opts more.

Borrowed from Harvard

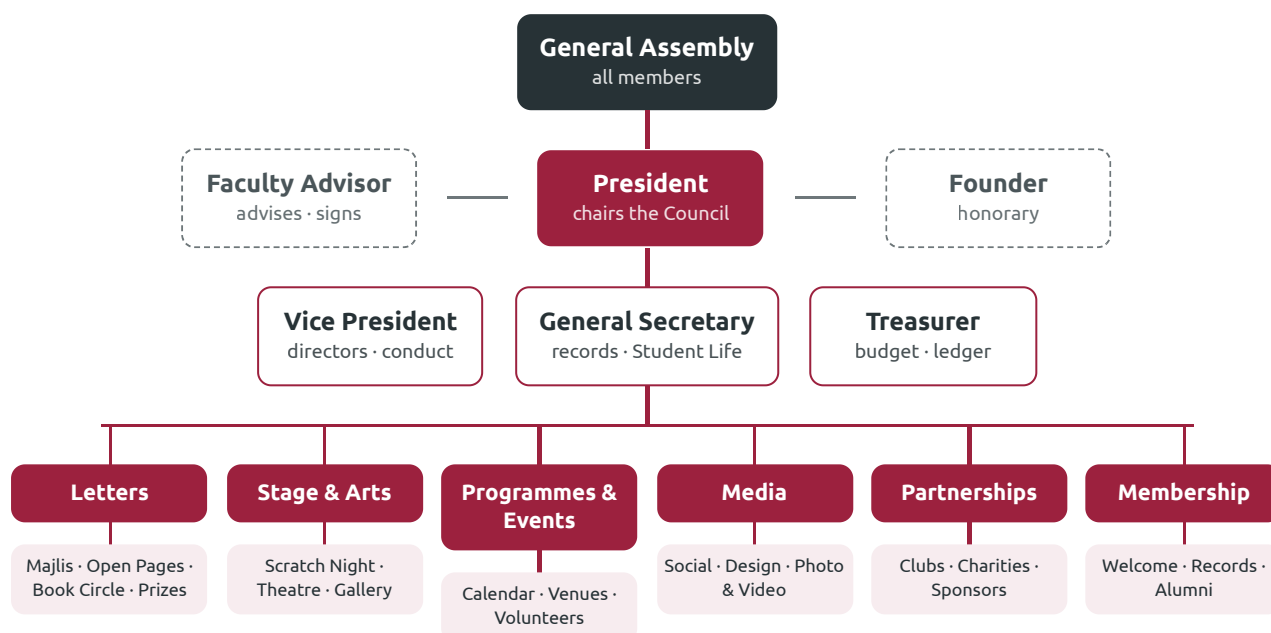

Boards by craft (fiction, poetry, art, design, business) and a trial period before joining, like the Advocate's comp.

Borrowed from Baghdad

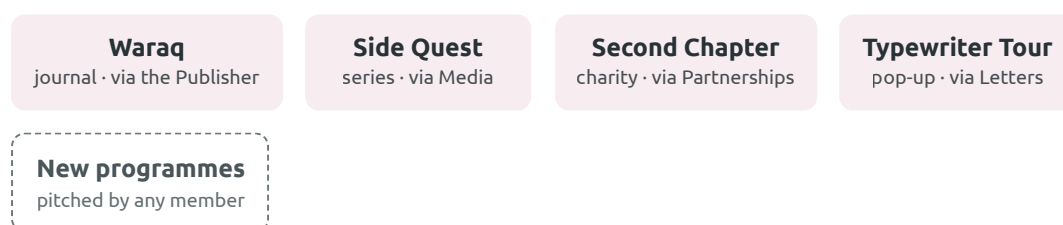

The salon, where writers and readers meet as equals over tea. SAL's Majlis is the heart of the Letters department.

The Organisation Chart

The full structure at scale. In the founding term some boxes are combined (dashed), as the Constitution allows.

PROGRAMMES, EACH WITH A CHAIR AND A CHARTER

COMMITTEES

Solid crimson: decision-makers. Outlined: officers and committees. Tint: programmes. Dashed: advisory or not yet staffed.

Growing in Stages

We staff for the Society we are, not the one we hope to be. Each stage adds roles only when the work and the people are there.

STAGE	MEMBERS	COUNCIL	OTHER ROLES	PEOPLE IN ROLES
1 • Founding 2026–27	Up to ~40 registered	8 seats: four officers + Letters (also Stage & Arts), Programmes, Media, Membership. The VP covers Partnerships.	4 programme chairs; 6–8 coordinators (Social Media, Design, Onboarding, Event Coordinator, Archivist, Majlis Host); programme teams	~18 + programme teams
2 • Growing 2027–28	40–100	All 10 seats filled	~14 coordinators; Scratch Night and a one-act festival; Alumni Lead	~28
3 • Established 2028 onward	100+	10 seats + deputies for the Treasurer and General Secretary	~20 coordinators; Sponsorship Lead; inter-university links	~35

Move up a stage when...

Voting Members pass the next band for a full semester, and every existing seat has been filled for that semester.

Hold back when...

Seats sit empty, deadlines slip, or the same five people do everything. Fill and train before adding.

Who decides

The Council, at the start of each semester, recorded in the minutes. Stages are a guide, not a rule.

The smallest working Society

If people are scarce, these six must be filled first: President, Vice President, Treasurer, General Secretary, Media Director and Director of Programmes. Everything else can be covered for a semester.

Staffing Principles

1 Two roles at most, one leadership role

Nobody holds more than two Society roles, and only one of them may be officer, director or programme chair (B5.5). The founding term is the only exception.

2 Every role has a backup

Each role card names a deputy. If you are ill during an event week, the work still happens.

3 Honest hours

Each role says how many hours it needs. Applicants tell us their other commitments. We would rather fill a role late than burn someone out.

4 Open doors, fair choices

Every role is advertised in the Open Call to every student, SAL member or not, and chosen by a panel with a score sheet.

5 Try before you commit

Team roles start with a three-week Apprenticeship: one real task with a mentor, then a free choice on both sides.

6 Write it down, hand it on

Every role keeps a handover dossier from its first week, not its last.

7 Credit is part of the job

Names in programmes and mastheads, certificates of service, and Fellowships for those who give the most.

Key-person risk, founding term. Today the Founder is President, Publisher of Waraq, Executive Producer of Side Quest and Lead of Second Chapter, and the Media Director is also Side Quest's Creative Director. That is allowed for the founding term, but it is the Society's biggest risk. Recommended: appoint a Second Chapter deputy by October 31 who leads Edition 2; recruit a Social Media Lead and a Design Lead in the Open Call so Media runs during Side Quest shoots; and name the Vice President as President-in-waiting for every Student Life contact.

The Executive Board

The four elected officers. Together they prepare every Council meeting and carry the Society between them.

Succession and Backup

Student societies usually die in the year after their founders graduate. Ours is designed to survive that year.

IF THIS PERSON IS AWAY...	...THIS PERSON STEPS IN	...AND IS BEING PREPARED TO SUCCEED
President	Vice President	Vice President or a director with a full year
Vice President	General Secretary	Any director
General Secretary	Vice President	Archivist
Treasurer	President (second signature: VP)	Deputy Treasurer or a trained cashier
Any director	Their named coordinator	That coordinator
Programme chair	Their deputy in the programme	Deputy or section lead

The founder's year

The first election is in April 2027. From then, the Founder holds office only if elected, and may sit with the Council for one year as Founding Advisor, without a vote. By Charter Night 2027, the Society should be run entirely by people who joined after it was founded.

Shadow, then hand over

Newly elected officers shadow their predecessors from the AGM (April 20) to handover (May 13). Every role keeps a handover dossier (F-24), and access to every account moves within seven days.

Pathways

Nobody needs permission to get more involved. This is the usual path, but any member may apply for any role.

01	Friend	Follows @auibsal, comes to a Majlis
02	Member	Registers, signs the Pledge, types six words
03	Voting Member	Two recorded activities in a semester
04	Apprentice	Three weeks, one real task, a mentor
05	Coordinator	Owens a piece of a department
06	Director or Chair	Leads a department or a programme
07	Officer	Elected by the members
08	Fellow	Honoured for service; for life

What members take away

A named role on a real publication, production or event; a certificate of service signed by the Faculty Advisor; a reference from the President on request; and, for those who give the most, a Fellowship for life.

The First Open Call

One call, opening Sunday, October 18, for every open role in the Society and its programmes. Director applications close Monday, October 26; interviews October 27–29; the Council is announced Saturday, October 31.
